2009TDC10a: Introduction

Running Time: 2mins

Intro

[Ed and Caro are in this Video]

[Ed to Caro] What are you doing here, this is MY show!

[Ed] Yes, we decided that this week is Web 2.0 week here at Thirty Day Challenge, and I couldn't think of anyone better to teach you guys than Caro, who is, of course, the arbiter of all things Customer Related on the Forum, and does a wonderful job looking after all our moderators and all of you guys. So, it's great to have her here with us today. But she's also going to be showing you how we use Web 2.0 (and you've heard Web 2.0 a lot, right?) - showing you how to do that with a purpose, with a view to getting traffic. Today we're going look at using articles, [to Caro] which is something you've done a lot of, right?

[Caro] Absolutely. I've done a lot of them, a lot of them - and they're absolutely necessary to do for the Thirty Day Challenge, and also ongoing with your Web Business.

[Ed] That's it, so, we're going to teach you guys that to day, and now, we're going to get Caro to perform some incredible singing techniques - we're going to be shooting for the Thirty Day Challenge Theme Song, so that'll be fun too.

[Caro] And some Pole Dancing, too.

[Ed] Dare I mention Pole Dancing? This is a family show!

[Caro] I'm just kidding!

[Ed] This is a family show! Home-schoolers, when we refer to Pole Dancing, we're actually referring to the practice of creating fences, out on the farm.

[Caro] Absolutely, I do come from New Zealand, and there's a lot of Poles.

[Ed] I wasn't going to bring up the New Zealand thing. But if you want to go to New Zealand, and bring up the New Zealand thing... We've got a big fan-base in New Zealand - so I wouldn't mention anything about Sheep, or Clouds, or Pull-Finger, or any of those sorts of things. I wouldn't bring that up. Not on this, today.

[Ed] There is some work! It's over there [points at training videos] You may want to get there as quickly as humanly possible. We'll see you tomorrow.

[Caro] See you!
